Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 1237 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 34, Agricultural food products.

This second edition was submitted directly to the ISO Council, in accordance with clause 5.10.1 of part 1 of the Directives for the technical work of ISO. It cancels and replaces the first edition (i.e. ISO 1237-1974), which had been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Brazil	Germany, F.R.	Netherlands
Bulgaria	Hungary	Poland
Czechoslovakia	India	Romania
Egypt, Arab Rep. of	Iran	Turkey
France	Israel	United Kingdom

This International Standard had also been approved by the Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC).

The member body of the following country had expressed disapproval of the document on technical grounds :

Austria
